ARGENTINA INVESTMENT AND TRADE PROMOTION AGENCY was established in 1993 with the aim to strengthen the country's commercial competitiveness on a global stage. The agency focuses on boosting the nation's share of FDI and facilitating the expansion of local businesses into international markets. It has identified public-private partnerships as the key to unlocking shared successes for the nation, its entrepreneurs and foreign investors. After nearly three decades of accumulated experience, AAICI has established an extensive diplomatic network at home and abroad. The agency seeks to deepen collaboration between the public and private sectors.

BK COMPONENTS has developed a series of lightweight composite sprayer booms designed for agricultural machines with a modular design. These booms efficiently combine carbon fiber tubes, modular attachments, and metallic nodes to enhance productivity and reduce operational costs. The shift from traditional materials to composites has extended the width of the arms, reduced weight, lowered costs, and improved overall productivity. BK COMPONENTS is the result of a collaborative effort between KOHLENIA SRL, specializing in advanced composite parts and production processes, and BCK ID SRL, an industrial design studio. Together, they have designed these spraying booms, which are intended for installation on top-brand machines, offering them benefits such as weight reduction and other advantages enabled by carbon fiber composites. The product design of the full composite 40-meter boom received recognition, winning the Argentinean SBD Prize in 2021, the Red Dot Award in 2022, and being named a finalist in the 2023 JEC Innovation Awards.
